

HE PUTS BLAME ON MORSE

CURTIS TRIES TO EXONERATE HIMSELF ON STAND.

Tells How Financier Insisted on Loan to F. Augustus Heinze, Against His Protest.

New York, Oct. 29.—The apparent determination of Alfred H. Curtis to exonerate himself of all blame respecting the banking transactions for which he and Charles W. Morse are now undergoing trial in the United States district court here became more defined Wednesday when, under the prompting of his attorney, Mr. Curtis produced a letter written by him under date of June 13, 1907, and addressed to Morse, in which he protested vigorously against the continuance of practices inaugurated by the latter, which, in Curtis' opinion, constituted a grave menace to the stability of the Bank of North America.

The incident of the overdraft of $210,000 by Morse, previously testified to, was made the subject of searching questions by the witness' own attorney. Mr. Curtis related the coming of F. Augustus Heinze to him with a request for a loan of $125,000 and his refusal to grant the accommodation. Morse remonstrated with him, saying "unless we let them have the money they must go to the wall." Curtis stood firm, however, he said, and retorted: "They cannot have a cent of the bank's money; if they must fail, they must fail."

But to his amazement, he testified, a personal check of Charles W. Morse for $125,000, drawn to the order of Heinze, came through the next day. The check had been honored although at the time, the witness said, Morse had a balance to his credit of only $2,100.

"I at once went to Mr. Morse," the witness said, "and told him that he must protect the bank and at once wipe out this overdraft. Mr. Morse sent out and got two boxes of securities and turned over their contents to me. I told him that the securities he offered were insufficient and he offered to give me an order on $1,000,000 of steamship bonds which he had on deposit in London. I accepted the offer and upon being given the order at once cabled to London to have the securities held subject to the Bank of North America's order."

DR. STRYKER'S LIFE IN PERIL.

College President Dangerously Injured in Runaway Accident.

Clinton, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Rev. Dr. Melancthon Woolsey Stryker, president of Hamilton college, is in a critical condition at his home here from injuries received in a runaway accident Wednesday.

Dr. Stryker had taken a seat beside his driver in a carriage at his home on Cottage Hill to go to the village and the vehicle was turned from the private driveway into the main road where the spirited horse took fright and dashed across the highway. The carriage was tipped into a deep ditch and overturned against a hedge. Several Hamilton college students were passing, but the accident occurred so suddenly that they had no chance to save their president from injury. They rushed up to find him unconscious, bleeding from the nose and mouth and with a long gash across his forehead.

It was found that President Stryker suffered concussion of the brain and possibly serious internal injury. He remained unconscious until early evening when he was able to answer a few questions. His physician considers his condition very dangerous.

Big Forestry Force Going West.

Washington, Oct. 29.—To man the new western field headquarters of the forestry service recently established at Missoula, Mont.; Denver, Col.; Albuquerque, N. M.; Ogden, Utah; San Francisco, Cal.; and Portland, Ore., a party of 365 foresters, clerks, stenographers and other employees, including 120 women and from 50 to 75 administrative officers, will leave here December 1. The chief forester and 200 employees will remain here.

Fatal Shooting at Rossville, Tenn.

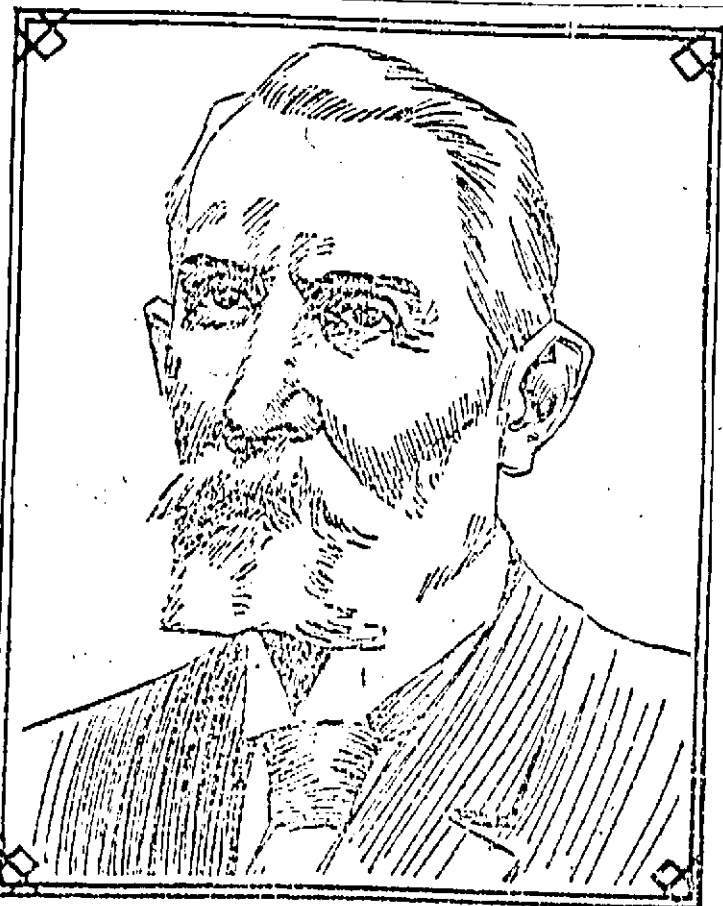

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 29.—In a sensational shooting affair at Rossville, a suburb of Chattanooga, Wednesday, Constable John Harlock was fatally injured, Oscar Henderson received wounds which caused his death a few hours later, and O. S. Henderson was seriously wounded. The fight was the result of an attempt of Constable Harlock to arrest the Henderson brothers.

Decapitated by Red-Hot Wire.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 29.—Erick Els was decapitated Wednesday at the American Steel & Wire Company mills. While drawing red-hot wire, he broke and coiled about his neck. His neck was burned through in a few seconds by the hot wire, completely severing his head from his body.

DR. JACQUES BERTILLON FRANCE TO FILL EMPTY CRADLES.

Paris, France.—With the selection of Dr. Jacques Bertillon as president of the National Alliance for the Increase of French Population, the society takes on a very definite and aggressive campaign. Americans have heard much about race suicide but it is left to the French, and especially to the beloved Dr. Bertillon, to systematically study out this cause and effect in this country, which has become known as the "Land of Empty Cradles."

WILLIAM B. RIDGELY, FORMER COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY, WHO ADVOCATES A CENTRAL BANK TO AVERT PANICS.

(By Special Correspondent.)

William B. Ridgely is one of the authorities on finance. When seen at his office today he expressed some interesting views regarding the money situation.

"I firmly believe myself," he said, "and am glad to say I find this belief becoming much more widespread, especially in the west, that the best way to solve our banking problem is through the establishment of a national central bank of issue and redemption, dealing only with the other banks and the United States treasury, and owned and managed jointly by banks and the government."

"The worst remedy for financial distress is frenzied legislation, for the medicine is worse than the disease. We have had too much of bad finance and too much of bad legislation. What we need most now is a long period of rest from both."

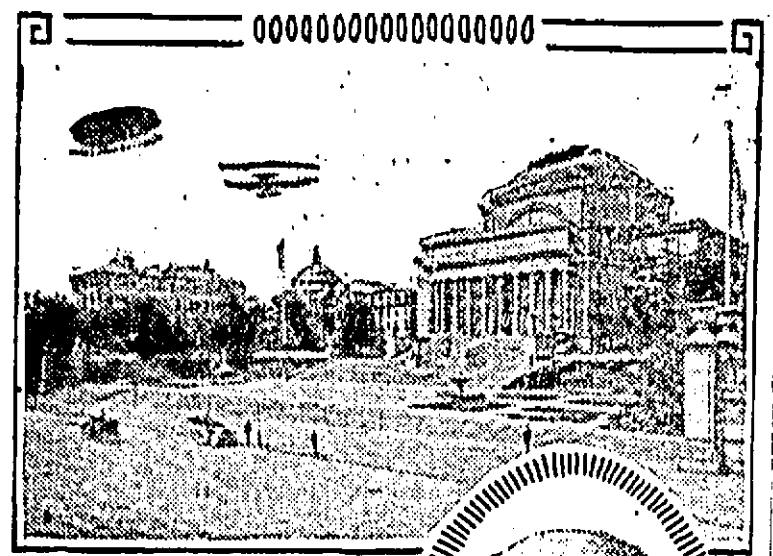

"I am not one of those who believe that our condition is greatly due to either legislation or the lack of it. I certainly do not believe that we need look to legislation for a cure. It is the banker and farmer, the miner and manufacturer, not the lawyer or legislator, the banker or the politician, who must do the work and produce the wealth that shall again restore our business to a firm basis of enduring and permanent prosperity."

"We should, of course, stop speculation, stop trading and the sales and swindling schemes, as far as possible, but that is really more a matter of the enforcement of present laws than it is the enactment of new ones."

Referring to the panic of last fall, Ridgely said:

"At the same time, just across the line in Canada there was absolutely nothing of the kind. With their industrial, commercial and agricultural affairs in no better shape than our own, they had no bank panic, because they had the right kind of a banking system and a scientific bank-note currency. In no other commercial country would a bank collapse have been possible."

"In Kansas, in 1893, a banker closed his doors and posted this sign: 'This bank has suspended. It is not busted. The community is busted. When the community resumes, the bank will resume.'"

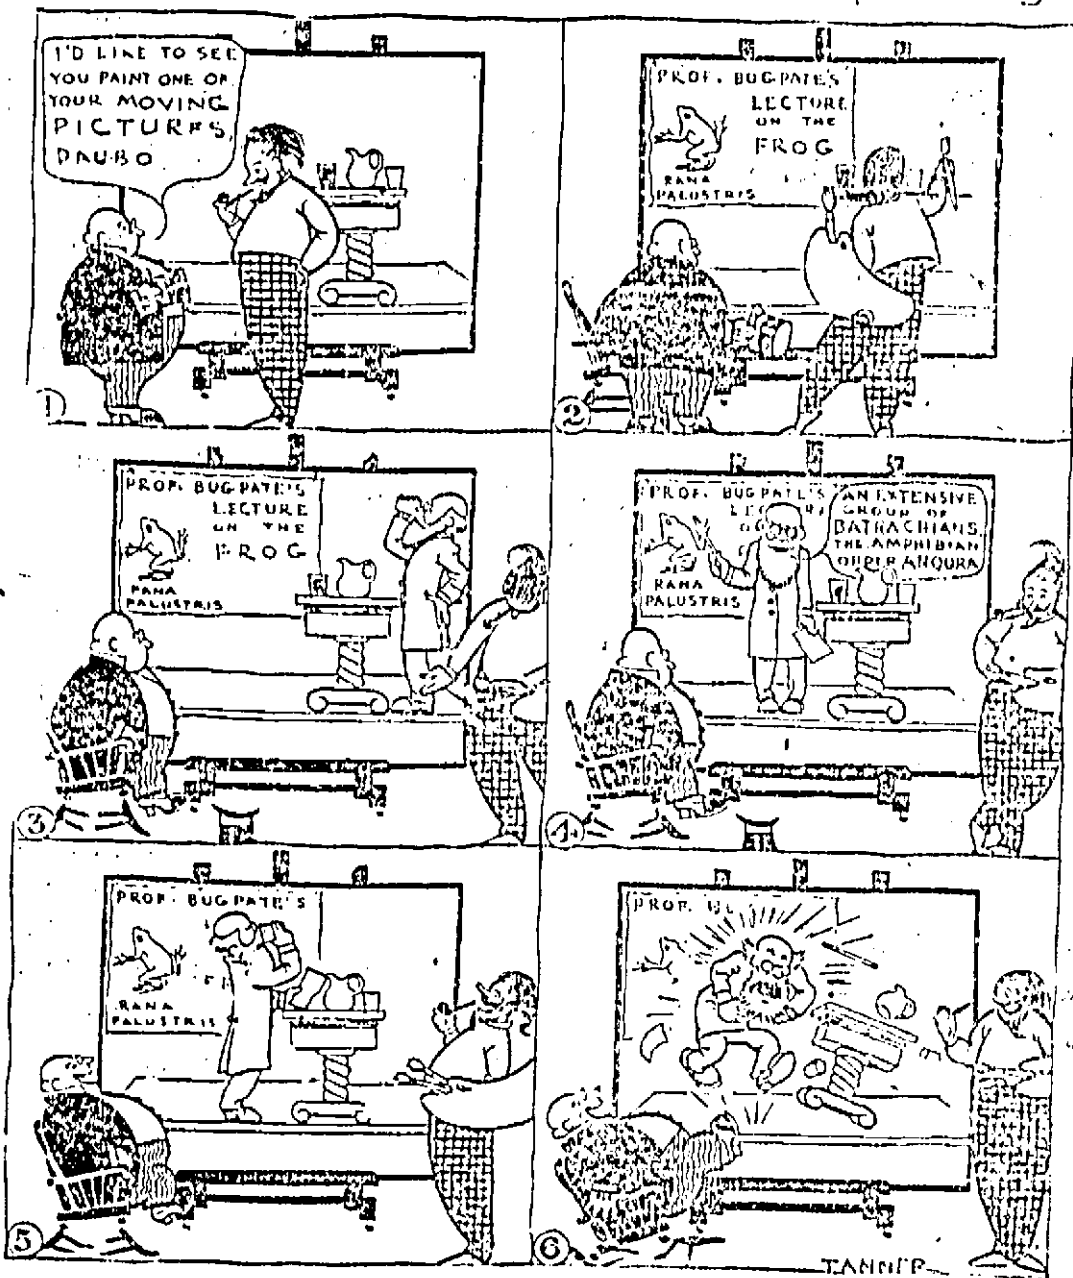

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY AS IT MAY APPEAR IN THE NEAR FUTURE AND HER STRENUOUS PRESIDENT, NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER.

New York.—People who have been interested in the rapid development of aeroplanes were somewhat startled when airships placed on a commercial basis. Still more startling is the announcement that Columbia university has added a course in aeronautics to its university curriculum. No doubt in the near future airships will be sailing around the campus quite as unnoticed as automobiles are today if the theories of the present enthusiasts of the department are carried out.

Columbia has always been a leader in new branches of science, but it was hardly to be expected that a course in airship building would come quite as soon as it has. Again

The lecturer drinks out of the wrong glass.

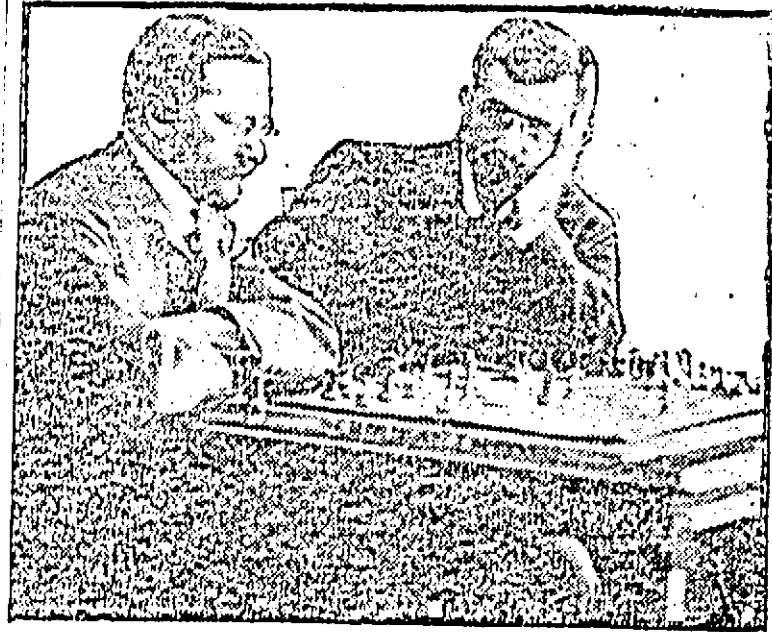

Discussing the new currency law, the speaker dealt on the attempted passage of the Freedland bill providing for an emergency circulation based on a form of clearing house certificates to be issued against the bills receivable or other assets of a bank. Commenting on it, he said:

"In a rather clumsy and complicated way it provides for a sort of redemption of bank paper, such as might much better be done by a central bank of redemption. It perpetuates and adds to the premium offered to commercial banks to buy and deal in bonds, instead of lending their money for commercial purposes."

"The best possible basis for bank circulation is good commercial bills receivable. This is what the banks should have as their chief assets, both for their own and the welfare of their customers."

"In the bill under discussion is a very unjust discrimination in the limitation of the class of bank paper which may be used for circulation. To include only notes representing actual commercial transactions which, when accepted by the association, shall bear the names of at least two responsible parties, and have not to exceed four months to run. This confines the bank to the use for this purpose, of trade bills which are no longer used as they once were in the business of the United States. Years ago such bills were very largely used, but this has ceased to be the case. It is now almost universal for good houses which enjoy high credit to borrow from banks to discount their trade bills, and only the smaller or weaker houses in many lines of trade give notes for their bills."

"The best that can probably be said, necessarily is great enough to induce the currency association law in its people to pay the price, doubtless present form is that it is better than some such notes will be issued and a nothing, and perhaps the best that certain amount of relief be secured."

THE INTERNATIONAL CHESS CHAMPIONSHIP.

The contest for the world's chess crown among chess players all over the world, Dr. Lasker is in the lead seen Dr. Tarrasch (on the left) and Dr. E. Lasker of New York (on the right), is exciting the greatest interest in the world. The play was begun in Dusseldorf and will be concluded August 31 in Munich.

4 Trade Stimulators For Saturday

To pull the crowd to The Big Store we will put on sale Saturday Four Great Bargains each worthy of the name Sargain.

BARGAIN I—

LACE CURTAINS

500 pairs of Lace Curtains, representing a recent very special purchase, unusually good values, and offer them at a price which affords Hotel Keepers and Housewives a rare opportunity to get good curtains for little money. 5 Patterns in imported bobbinets, cable nets and double thread Scotch nets, colors white and dark ecru. Widths 36 to 50 inches; Lengths 2½ to 3 yards. See them in South window and judge for yourself the values we are giving while they last at per pair $1.25.

BARGAIN II—

Oil Cloth Stove Rugs

A lucky purchase enables us to offer about 200 oil cloth stove rugs, good patterns, size 1½ yards square. To add zest to the sale of them we will give with each rug a roll of the best brass binding. While they last our prices are for Quality I, 75c; Quality II, 90c.

BARGAIN III—

Fleeced Flannelettes

Under the market we bought 50 pieces of fancy flannelettes, fleeced, in a wide range of styles, checks, figures, Persians, dots, dark and light; the cloth is excellent weight, 27 inches wide, and retailed usually at 10 to 12 1-2c. Buy all you want at 8c.

BARGAIN IV—

UMBRELLAS

Seldom is the opportunity offered to secure a serviceable umbrella at such a small figure. We purchased at a close price a lot of 100 fast black, twilled, mercerized finished umbrellas. The handles are particularly attractive, such that one might expect on a two dollar article. Have them in 26 inch for ladies, 28 inch for men. Don't wait for a rainy day, get one now at our bargain price—98c.

We put these above 4 bargains on sale Saturday morning, prices to continue until Wednesday night, but would advise not putting off buying too long as the lots will not last always.

A HARD QUESTION

"Are you one of these Butcher Dentists that don't care whether they kill or cure?" said a prospective patient the other day.

"Well now," said I, "you don't expect a man to ever acknowledge any such characteristics as that."

"Well, I've seen just such," said she, "I don't want a dentist to go right ahead whether he hurts or not."

"I will be careful," said Dr. Richards, "and leave you to judge as to whether I will meet your requirements or not."

"Well," said she, "You have done work for my husband two years ago, and his crown was all right, and the work satisfactory. So I came to you myself."

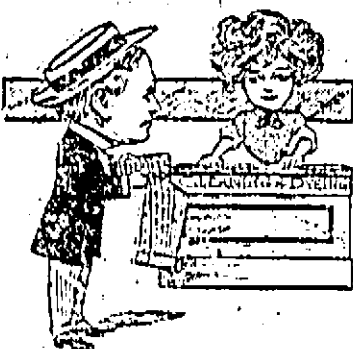

That's the secret of Dr. Richards' success.

His work is all right, and wears and makes permanent friends.

Try him yourself.

CLOSE CAMPAIGN WITH BIG RALLYATOPERA HOUSE

REPUBLICANS WILL BE OUT IN FORCE MONDAY NIGHT.

FRANK L. GILBERT SPEAKER

Final Wind-up of the Campaign With the Orator General as the Orator of the Evening.

What promises to be a glorious wind-up for the present republican campaign will occur next Monday evening when the republicans from Janesville and the adjacent county will assemble at the Myers theatre for the last rally with Attorney General Frank L. Gilbert as the orator of the evening.

Mr. Gilbert is a speaker of marked ability and has been doing yeoman service throughout the state in the present campaign in behalf of Taft and the republican state and assembly tickets. Reports of his addresses from different sections of the state show he has made a forceful argument and his addresses here on Monday will be listened to with interest. County Chairman
H. L. McManis hopes to have other speakers to join the meeting a rough line and the Imperial band will be brought into use to furnish the musical inspiration for the occasion. The promising officer of the evening has not yet been selected. It being learned only this afternoon that Mr. Gilbert's services could be obtained.

hospital a short time ago and since that time has been located in Janesville. She had only been ill for a few days and her death was very sudden.
The remains will be taken to the home of Emil Tows at 127 Galea street and the funeral will be held from the Lutheran church in Hanover.
Miss Tows was about thirty years of age. Her many friends in Janesville will be deeply shocked to learn of her death.

ALL MASKED MEN ARE ORDERED SHOT

NO MERCY FOR NIGHT RIDERS IN VICINITY OF OBIION.

RINGLEADER IS CAPTURED

Garrett Johnson Believed to Know All
About Rankin Murder—Dutton
Has Implicated Three Hundred Men.

Camp Nemo, Tenn., Oct. 29.—Maj. J. B. Horton has been directed to go to the vicinity of Obion and sweep through the lowland there where night riders have been reported to be active. Col. Tatum wired Maj. Horton to cover that section thoroughly and to shoot any men discovered masked without calling to him to halt.

Frank Ferriner has confessed concerning the Quentia Rankin murder and has implicated ten of 12 men now in custody. He gave names and it is understood went into full details.

Ringleader a Prisoner?
Samburg, Tenn., Oct. 29.—The ringleader of the night riders in this section, it is believed, is a prisoner at Camp Nemo. His name is Garrett Johnson. It is the general opinion that Johnson, if he can be compelled to talk, could tell more about the recent outrages than any other man under arrest. Not less than 40 men, alleged to have been connected actively with night riding in this territory, are under arrest, and enough evidence has already been collected to hang at least four men.

Does Burton Know More?
The confession of T. D. Burton is the sensation of the day, both here and at Union City, and it is believed that he has not yet told all he knows about the killing of Capt. Rankin.

John F. Coekran, the man captured after a chase on the lake, has confessed that the night rider outrages have included the whipping of women. One woman was whipped for leaving her husband and another for being of ill repute.

Three Hundred Implicated.
The latest report to reach here from Tiptonville is that Burton has broken down completely and that his confession implicates 300 men from Obion county. Even the oath taken by night riders has been confessed, though the officials will not make public the wording.

The 70 or more prisoners now in camp are closely guarded and Garrett Johnson, the alleged leader, together with his brother Tom and William Watson, are kept in solitary confinement.

Governors to Confer.
Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 29.—An important conference of governors of five states for the discussion of night rider situation and the suggestion of remedial measures will probably be held in Memphis during the progress of the coming mass meeting of cotton growers and allied interests. Acting on the suggestion of Harvey Jordan, president of the Southern Cotton Association, and following the expressed intention of Gov. M. R. Patterson to invite such a conference at an early date, every effort is being put forth to have the meeting held at Memphis.

How to Make Tea.

Mrs. Wickersham had advertised for an experienced cook. The first applicant who came in answer to the advertisement was a stout, red-haired young woman. Mrs. Wickersham propounded several questions which she answered in a fairly satisfactory manner. Then she asked her:

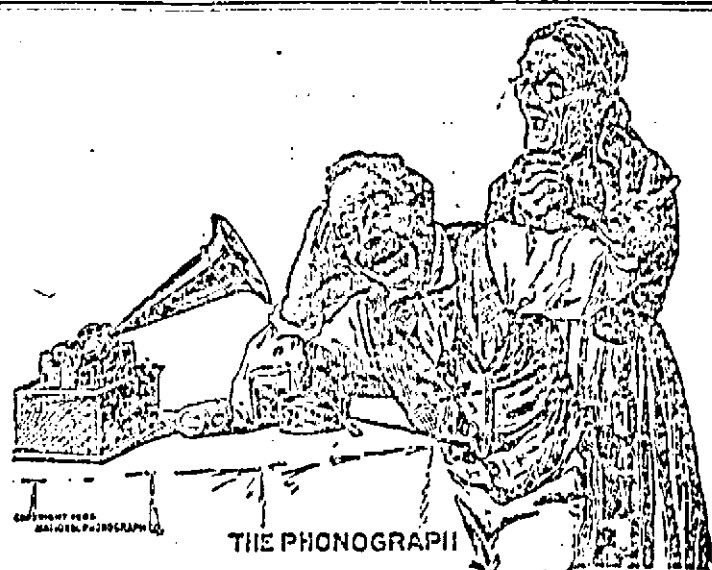

"How long do you boil tea?"
"Well, mum," said the young woman, "some folks like it longer and some shorter. It's all a matter of taste."

"But you do boil it, don't you?"
"Oh, yes, certainly; but I've always thought that two hours was long enough to boil any tea. You can get all the strength out of it in that time."

Rainbows.
The rainbow is caused by the rays of sunlight breaking up into their seven colors when they strike the falling raindrops. The observer must be between the sun and the rain to see the rainbow. When there is a double rainbow the inner one is the primary and the outer one, which is the fainter, is the secondary one.

GREAT OVATION IS GIVEN JUDGE TAFT

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN IS PACKED WITH ENTHUSIASTS.

CLIMAX OF HIS CAMPAIGN

Gov. Hughes Appears at the Same Meeting and is Given a Greeting Scarcely Less Uprousous.

New York, Oct. 29.—The Republican campaign in New York city reached its climax Wednesday night when William H. Taft, presidential candidate, and Charles E. Hughes, candidate for governor, spoke from the same platform at Madison Square garden to an audience that filled the enormous amphitheater.

Both the candidates were greeted with uproarious enthusiasm, the applause and shouting for Taft lasting 19 minutes.

Their appearance at Madison Square garden came at the end of a day which from a political viewpoint was most remarkable. During the day Mr. Taft spoke at 14 meetings and Gov. Hughes spoke 16 times. Then, at night, while the Madison Square meeting was in progress, a giant parade was wending its way in a downpour of rain down through the heart of the city. These were only the main features of the day.

Hours before the doors of the garden were thrown open long lines of ticket holders had formed. There is no other structure in New York which can hold such a big audience as Madison Square garden, but it soon became apparent to the police that it would not have space enough for the hundreds gathered outside.

Not Driven Away by Rain.

At seven o'clock a heavy rain set in and it was thought the crowd would dwindle, but this was a mistake. The streets for blocks around were alive with umbrellas and few persons deserted the waiting throng. Excellent police regulations prevented any unseemly crowding when the doors were opened shortly after the rain began to fall. By eight o'clock the police had to bar all except reserved seat ticket holders.

A band of 100 pieces kept the crowd from becoming impatient during the hour or more that elapsed before Gen. Horace E. Porter, who presided, called the meeting to order.

Big Demonstration for Hughes.

The first addresses were by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and Oscar Straus. Mr. Straus was interrupted by the appearance of Gov. Hughes in the hall. The crowd sprang to its feet waving flags, the band played a lively air which could hardly be heard, and for 16 minutes there was an uproar. The excitement increased when Gov. Hughes reached the platform. Men were standing on chairs, throwing their hats into the air and shouting at the top of their voices.

While Gov. Hughes was speaking cheers were heard outside and shouts of "Taft, Taft, Taft" made the governor cut his speech short. Mr. Taft did not appear, however, and George A. Knight of California was introduced as the next speaker.

Taft is Given an Ovation. It was two minutes after 11 o'clock when Mr. Taft arrived. As soon as he was recognized there was tremendous cheering which lasted for 19 minutes. The crowd shouted "Taft, Taft, Taft" and sang Yule songs while the band played, but the instruments could be heard only when the cheering died down a bit. Mr. Taft stood on the platform with a smile of appreciation wreathing his round, good-natured face. As the cheering continued minute after minute, Mr. Taft grew more serious and tried to compel silence, and finally was permitted to deliver his speech.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION ENDS.

General Jubilee Over Gains—Resolution Hits Speaker Cannon.

Denver, Col., Oct. 29.—The thirty-fifth annual convention of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union came to an end Wednesday night with a general jubilee in which all the states represented took part by reporting the great gains in membership made during the year. It was announced that a gain of 20,000 in membership had been made.

Several resolutions were adopted, the most important one expressing opposition to the re-election of Speaker Joseph G. Cannon to the national house of representatives.

Nicaragua Towns Destroyed.

New Orleans, Oct. 29.—The steamer Dictator, which arrived Wednesday night from Bluefields, reports that the recent storm which swept the northern coast of Nicaragua practically destroyed the towns of Ilo Grande and Pripapula. Two lives were lost at Ilo Grande.

TRYING TO SHIFT CRIME

DEFENSE OF WHITMORE HAS A DRAMATIC OPENING.

Witness Tells Story That Casts Suspicion of Woman's Murder on Man in Court.

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 29.—The defense at the trial of Theodore S. Whitmore of Brooklyn, charged with the murder of his wife Lena, whose body was found in the Lamplblack swamp in Harrison, N. J., last December, opened under rather dramatic circumstances late Wednesday immediately after the prosecution had rested its case.

In an attempt to strengthen Whitmore's alibi and to connect William C. Bartlett, known by the police as "Gold Tooth Billy," with the crime, Theodore Volz, an employee of the Union Ice Company, was called to the stand. Volz testified to seeing a man on a trolley car in Newark, whose "shift" walk attracted his attention, the night before the body was found. This man, he said, produced a five-dollar bill and then another, and then exhibited loose change and two rings, remarking as he did so: "Money comes easy in Harrison."

The witness also noticed that the man's gloves were muddy. Here he added that he had seen the individual in question in court during the trial. "Point him out," said counsel for the defense.

Volz walked to the table where Whitmore was sitting and pointing across it to the front bench, where Bartlett was seated, said: "There is the man." Bartlett only smiled.

Volz was sure Bartlett appeared nervous when the witness saw him on the car; that he was not drunk, and that the rings he showed were a woman's.

CHAIN THEMSELVES TO GRILLE.

Suffragettes Create Remarkable Scene in House of Commons.

London, Oct. 29.—Suffragette disturbances have driven the government to the unusual course of temporarily closing the strangers' and ladies' galleries in the house of commons. Wednesday evening a sensation was caused by the display of a placard and sudden shrill cries from the ladies' gallery, demanding votes for women, while simultaneously a bundle of hand-bills fluttered down from the strangers' gallery at the opposite end of the chamber, and a man shouted protests against "injustice to women."

Attendants hurried to the galleries and the male offender was unconsciously ejected, but from the ladies' gallery sounds were heard of a desperate struggle. Two suffragettes had finally chained themselves to the grille and resisted for a time all efforts at removal, crying continuously in shrill tones their demands for votes.

The scene was watched with amazement from the floor of the house, but finally the suffragettes were dragged from their posts and removed, but only after portions of the grille were removed with them.

Memorial Service for Sternburg.

Washington, Oct. 29.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt, the diplomatic corps, the secretary of state, and other high executive officials, members of the supreme court and representatives of the army and navy, attended the memorial services for the late German ambassador, Baron Speck von Sternburg, which were held in the German Lutheran Concordia church here Thursday. Baroness Sternburg was accompanied by her mother, Frau Paul A. Monzel of the Lutheran church and Roland Cotton Smith of St. John's church led the service.

William N. Graham of Missouri Dies. Excelsior Springs, Mo., Oct. 29.—William N. Graham, for 16 years business manager of the Bellville Democrat, died here Wednesday, aged 69 years. He was at one time sergeant-at-arms of the Missouri legislature.

BRYAN IS INDORSED BY DAVID B. HILL

ONE TIME LEADER INTRODUCES CANDIDATE AT ALBANY.

BELIEVES HIM TO BE RIGHT

Railroad Workmen at Rensselaer Stand in the Rain to Hear Address by the Candidate.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The feature of William Jennings Bryan's tour up state Wednesday was the appearance on the platform here at night of former United States Senator David B. Hill. It was the first time in several years that Mr. Hill had attended such a gathering, so that when he stepped forward as chairman to introduce Democracy's leader, the great crowd which packed the hall rose as one man and wildly cheered.

"Although not connected with politics," Mr. Hill said, "I reiterate that I am heartily in favor of the election of the Democratic national and state tickets. I am not so partisan, however, that I would support the party whether right or wrong, but permit me to say that I support the national ticket in this campaign because in my judgment our presidential candidate who honors us with his presence here tonight is absolutely right upon every contested question in this campaign."

Ovation for Bryan. The Democratic candidate received an ovation as he arose to speak. He was cheered to the echo and the large audience reluctantly obeyed his gesture to them to become quiet. He expressed his appreciation of the cordial welcome he had received "in the capital of our nation's greatest state," and replied to Mr. Hill by saying:

"I appreciate the more than generous words employed by Senator Hill in presenting me to you. One of the pleasures of this campaign is the unity that manifests itself in the Democratic party. As the candidate for president of the United States, I have behind me a united Democracy, and in front of me a scared Republican party." He declared that the Democratic party was full of fight while the Republican party was full of fright.

In the course of the day Mr. Bryan made speeches at Hastings-on-Hudson, Tarrytown, Ossining, Peekskill, Cold Springs, Fishkill, Poughkeepsie, Ulster, Hudson, Rensselaer, Schoharie and Troy. Everywhere along his line of travel immense crowds turned out in the rain to hear him.

Stand in Rain to Hear Bryan.

Rensselaer, N. Y., Oct. 29.—A large crowd, including many men employed in the division roundhouses of the New York Central railroad stood in a heavy rainstorm Wednesday to hear William J. Bryan speak. As Mr. Bryan mounted the platform a workman held up a dinner pail and shouted: "Hello, Hill, here's an empty dinner pail." The crowd cheered. Mr. Bryan devoted himself exclusively to a discussion of the labor question.

BITS OF NEWS.

Forty Yaquis were killed in a battle with Papago Indians in Sonora, Mexico.

Mrs. J. I. Petrie of New York was robbed of $1,700 worth of jewelry on a San Francisco street car.

A Chicago jury awarded Hugh Crabbe $110,000 back salary from Joe Leiter's Ziegler Coal Company.

M. W. Dayless of Washington was elected sovereign grand commander of the supreme council of the Scottish Rite Masons.

M. Sergeeff, Russian minister to Serbia, was detained at the frontier by Austro-Hungarian police, and roughly handled.

Nicholas "Belinkovsky," the Russian patriot who has been imprisoned in St. Petersburg for nearly a year, was released on bail.

Private Mike Hencham of the First cavalry, who ran amok at Manila and killed four of his comrades, was sentenced to life imprisonment.

BRIDEGROOM KILLS HIMSELF.

Kentuckian Commits Suicide One Day After Marrying Widow.

Paris, Ky., Oct. 29.—J. W. Hutchison of Harrison county, a widower with two children, was married here Tuesday to Mrs. Nannie C. Swinford of Cincinnati, and Wednesday afternoon killed himself in a lively stable here.

Hutchison and Mrs. Swinford were married by Rev. M. T. Chamber of the Methodist church. They returned to Cincinnati and Wednesday Hutchison came back to Paris and made an attempt to have the marriage set aside. Finding he was unable to do this, he went to the lively stable and fired a bullet through his brain.

Mystery in Double Tragedy.

Greenfield, Mass., Oct. 29.—A double tragedy, surrounded by mysterious circumstances, occurred here Wednesday night. Benjamin E. Galves, 35 years old, and Miss Harriet Mahel Wing, ten years younger, were found dying from bullet wounds at Miss Wing's boarding-house. Both expired without making a statement. The police expressed the opinion that Galves shot the young woman and then killed himself.

Young Bank Robbers Arrested.

Chihuahua, Mexico, Oct. 29.—Moses Navarro and Martin Matues, clerks in the Banco Minera, and Manuel Nollner, all boys of less than 21 years of age, are under arrest and the mystery of the robbery of the bank of $185,000 on the night of March 1 last is solved. One hundred and seventy thousand dollars of the money has been recovered.

Veteran Soldier a Suicide.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 29.—While seated in his home, with his family Wednesday night, Ramon P. Stowe, a veteran of the civil war, aged 65 years, drew a revolver from his pocket, turned to his wife and said "Good-by, I'm going now," and blew out his brains.

Don't Forget This Week's 10,000 Bonus Vote Offer

It Is Very Important To Every Candidate Who Wishes To Be A Winner To Secure One Of The Bonuses. Don't Be Satisfied With One If You Can Possibly Get Two You Will Need All You Can Get To Win.

David B. Griffin Who, Although One Of The Last To Start, Has Entered The Race With The Determination That Makes Victors And It Will Take Some Tall Hunting For The Other Candidates To Keep Ahead Of Him. Mrs. Robert Hockett Is Again In Second Position Displacing Mrs. Con. McDonald Who Held The Honor For A Day.

The New Bonus Offer

A certificate for 10,000 votes will be given with every $30.00 worth of business turned into the office by next Monday night at 10 P. M. This includes both "old" and "new" subscribers, and the certificate is given in addition to the regular votes issued on each subscription. All business previously turned in, and not checked off in one of the "club" offers will be included in this proposition. Get at least one of the certificates.

It's a rather poor sort of palmist who will not tell you to "look out for a tall dark man." The contest man doesn't know that description exactly fits any of the candidates in the Gazette's great European and diamond contest, but he does know that the methods of the tall, dark man are beginning to appear in evidence.

So if you see a tall, dark man, wearing gum shoes, sneaking about in the vicinity of some leader of a district, just figure that he has a large em of soap concealed beneath his raincoat and he's awaiting an opportunity to soap the skulls for some contestant who has been altogether too active.

The balloting yesterday was heavy. It was also exciting. It kept the contest man busy. The time has come when the little preliminary playfulness has been dropped and contestants are now assuming a serious expression that means business from this time forth. Many who have been holding back votes are now forging to the front. Some of them want to get there in one leap and others are satisfied to make a steady, methodical advance. It's merely a difference in campaign methods.

Some are still "under cover" with a nice little bundle of the certificates that count so much, while others are voting close up to their full strength.

Lots of funny things are happening. One candidate who doesn't care to take chances on others knowing his real standing, had a relative working in another town. The relative met with great success in the first hour and was so highly elated that she called the contestant up by phone. Being fearful that the operator at Central might "get an ear full" she hit upon the happy expedient of what might be termed a "telephone" conversation. And it went something like this:

"Hello, Blank, that you?"

"Yep," exclaimed Blank, recognizing her voice; "what's on your mind?"

"Oh, nothing in particular," sweetly replied the denure little maid artlessly, "only father was out this morning and shot three ducks in twenty minutes. He says the shooting is going to be fine and if you can get away a half day, he'd like to have you come up."

"Well, say, that makes an awful pleasant noise in my ears," answered the happy contestant, who readily understood that his relative's father had secured three new subscriptions for him in twenty minutes, and the field was now practically unworried.

Whereupon the contestant immediately caught the next car and last night turned in enough subscriptions to get in on this week's big bonus offer.

That is but one little story and the contest man knows of probably a hundred others that go to show what marked sincerity various candidates are injecting into the campaign. It would probably surprise the average reader to know how widespread is the interest in this contest.

To weeks of preparation and bustle is likely to win any one of those prizes for any one of the many active candidates. The race belongs to any one up to this time. Get into the game and show your mettle.

Heavy balloting was again in order yesterday and the fighting ones were as much in evidence as heretofore. Nearly all of the leading contestants in all districts were "present" and did some full voting just to let everyone know that there was something up their sleeves.

SHOW GAINS IN ASSESSMENTS

shows gains in SOME TOWNS SHOW SLIGHT INCONSISTENCIES WHICH WILL WORK OUT.

COMPLETED LISTS ARE OUT

Lists Made Up By Supervisor of Assessments Frank Starr and F. F. Livermore of Beloit.

Below will be found the completed report of the assessments of the various towns of Rock county as it will be presented to the county board at their meeting November 19. It will be presented to the committee on equalization of taxes at their meeting here Friday but it is not expected that many changes will be made. Some of the towns show slight inconsistencies but these will work out all right and the county is now on an equitable apportionment so that all parts of the state and county taxes. This work has been done by Mr. Starr who has secured the cooperation of the assessors of the different towns in bringing this about.

HOLD BOX SOCIAL ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Some Boxes Sold as High as $2 and $29.99 Was Realized from the Sale.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Clinton, Oct. 28.—A box social was held at the Northrup schoolhouse, southeast of town, Friday night. The boxes sold as high as $2 and $29.99 was realized from the sale of boxes—the prizes being very considerably that the young men of the neighborhood prize the privilege of cutting with the young ladies.

Mrs. M. A. Winchester died at her home on Main street Thursday night. Ole Gilbertson and family, whose house recently burned down, moved into town Saturday, occupying the newly home on East street.

Miss Harriet Cheesman and Mr. Francis Hughes were married in Chicago Saturday morning at the home of a friend of the groom. They will make their home for this winter with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cheesman, W. Milwaukee street. The happy couple have the best wishes for a long and prosperous life from a host of friends.

Our present congressman, H. A. Cooper, gave an address at Amos opera house Wednesday evening, Oct. 28.

STOP DRINKING

Orlino Destroys the Craving for Drink. Cure Effectual or Money Refunded.

It was formerly customary for the habitual drinker to take the pledge regularly, sometimes once a year, and sometimes in every fit of remorse that followed his debauches, and then—break it.

But now it is gradually dawning on the world that pledges do not stop drunkenness. When a man takes a pledge voluntarily, he expects to keep it. Every man expects to keep his word, and every broken pledge costs the drunkard many a headache, but he cannot help it. He fights as long as he can, then succumbs to the craving. The nervous system of the habitual drinker is diseased and he must have treatment that will cure his condition.

Orlino is sold under a positive guarantee to cure the drink habit or the money will be refunded. No other treatment for the liquor habit is sold with such a liberal guarantee. Orlino is prepared in two forms: No. 1, a powder, perfectly tasteless and colorless, which can be given secretly in any food or drink. Orlino No. 2, is in pill form, for those who wish to be cured of the habit, and it should be taken by every one who swears off.

No matter which form of Orlino is used the guarantee is the same. The price of Orlino is $1.00 per box, mailed in plain sealed wrapper upon receipt of price. Write for free booklet "How to Cure Drunkenness" (mailed in plain, sealed envelope) by The Orlino Co., Washington, D. C. Orlino is sold by People's Drug Company and King's Pharmacy.

The road known as Lake Shore road has given the builder, Hon. S. S. Jones, the title of "Good Roads Jones." It is a road that certainly is a great credit to the town to have such a fine stretch of perfect road.

SPECIAL WIRE FOR ELECTION RETURNS ON TUESDAY NEXT

Gazette Has Made Arrangements for Wire Direct Operator Chicago Office With Special Operator On November 2.

In order that the public may obtain the best service possible in the quickest and most complete form, the Gazette has made arrangements with the Postal Telegraph company to place an operator in the Gazette office on Tuesday November 3 with direct connection with the main office in Chicago. This means that the report will be received a few seconds after being filed in Chicago in the Gazette office and will be thrown on the screen a few seconds later avoiding any delay occasioned by carrying the message from the telegraph office to the Gazette. The Postal Telegraph company has perfected plans for obtaining the returns as fast as they are compiled in the different democratic and republican headquarters in the various states and will cover the entire country. It will be the most complete service possible to obtain. Added to this service the Gazette will receive its regular Associated Press bulletins that are to start at four o'clock. These will be received at the Postal Telegraph office so as not to make any breaks in the services received over the special wire at the Gazette office. Reports from the county will be received by telephone, extra phones being installed for the evening to prevent any delay. At the different polling places will be the best men available to rush the vote in as fast as counted. This will give those watching the Gazette returns the country news as fast as compiled. Reports of the state will also be received from Milwaukee and Madison both by phone and telegraph to make it as complete a series of returns as possible. The vote will be thrown into a screen across the street from the Gazette office by an experienced operator of a stereopticon.

BALLOT TAKES A NEW FORM THIS ELECTION

Names of the Presidential Electors Are at the Bottom of the Ticket

—Not at the Top.

A new form of ballot will be used at the election in November. One cross at the top of a party ticket will still vote the entire ticket including candidates for state, congressional, legislative and county offices and presidential electors. This may be done by putting a cross in a circle at the top of the ticket.

But the change coming in that the presidential electors are no longer at the head of the ticket. They are now at the bottom and in a division set off by itself. The candidates for governor head the ticket and are followed down in order by the other candidates for state offices, then the candidates for county offices. And way down below these come the names of the candidates for presidential electors.

The change was made at the last session of the legislature along with some other changes. One of those changes was discovered last spring at the election when it was found there was no circle or square at the top of the ticket for city election. No straight ballots could be cast by voting at the top of the ticket.

It is claimed that the general election ballots will make a difference as to who runs ahead in the state. The presidential electors have always run ahead heretofore, but in the case of split tickets are now the ones that are quite likely to be neglected and overlooked and their votes may not number as many as those for governor or county offices.

Sydney Smith's idea that every fine day is lost on which the Englishman does not kill something is still overture, so that the off-day in the Highlands is often a misery of inaction only because of the perversity of habit, whereas it ought to be a day on which it is possible for the active body to do nothing, and do it well, and for the active mind to be idle with-out remorse.—Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.

Are You Contented With a DRUNKARD?

Probably you, like thousands of others, have some member of your family who drinks to excess. It is more than likely that at these times you are disgusted with them and feel that they lack will power.

Keep in mind the fact that a person who drinks to excess does not drink for the drink itself, but for the effect it creates.

The drinker himself does not realize that his desire for the effect of drink comes from a diseased condition, consequently, he is in no position to aid himself. If you speak to him about taking a drink cure, he is liable to become angry and say, "I can stop if I want to," and he really thinks he can. But he does not feel quite right without a bracer; he fights the desire for awhile, but invariably relapses. "What's the sense of my feeling this way when a drink will put some life into me?" This drink is his undoing, as it forces his heart to an unnatural degree, and drugs his reasoning power.

WHITE RIBBON REMEDY CURES THE DRINK HABIT by removing the diseased condition which causes the desire for whiskey, beer, etc.

THE REMEDY IS ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS, TASTELESS AND ODORLESS, and where the patient will not agree to take treatment, it can be given SECRETLY in any food or drink, even plain water, curing the patient without his knowing he is taking treatment.

Note our confidence in White Ribbon Remedy. We say, and we mean it, if it does not cure the "drink habit" we will REFUND the MONEY you spend for it.

Space will not permit of more details here, but if you will write us, we will be glad to send you FREE, in a plain package, a book which does give details, as well as a sample of the remedy. Write today. Address, White Ribbon Remedy Co., Boston, Mass.

Chapter 11

THE house of Ruthven was a small but ultra modern limestone affair, between Madison and Fifth, a pocket edition of the larger mansions of their friends, but with less excuse for the overelaboration since the dimensions were only twenty by a hundred. Into this limestone house box tripped Mrs. Ruthven, mounted the miniature stairs with a whirl of her scented skirts, peeped into the drawing room, but continued mounting until she reached her own apartment, separated from those of her lord and master by a locked door.

That is, the door had been locked for a long, long time. But presently, to her intense surprise and annoyance, it slowly opened, and a little man appeared in silhouette.

He was a little man and plump, and at first glance his face appeared boyish and round and quite guileless of hair or of any hopes of it.

But as he came into the electric light the hardness of his features was apparent. He was no boy. A strange idea that he had never been assailed by some people, his face was puffy and pallid, and faint blue shadows hinted of closest shaving, and the line from the wing of the nostrils to the nerveless corners of his thin, hard mouth had been deeply bitten by the acid of uret.

For the remainder he wore pale rose pajamas under a silk and silver kimono, an obi pierced with a jeweled scarfpin, and he was smoking a cigarette as thin as a straw.

"Well," said his young wife in astonished displeasure.

"Send her out a moment," he said, with a nod of his head toward the maid. His voice was agreeable and full—a little precise and overcultivated perhaps.

When the maid retired Alexa sat up on the lounge, drawing her skirts down over her small stockinged feet.

"What on earth is the matter?" she demanded.

"The matter is," he said, "that Gerald has just telephoned me from the Stuyvesant that he isn't coming."

"Well!"

"No, it isn't well. This is some of your meddling."

"What if it is?" she retorted, but her breath was coming quicker.

"I'll tell you. You can get up and ring him up and tell him you expect him tonight."

She shook her head, eyes him and the while.

"I won't do it, Jack. What do you want him for? He can't play with the people who play here. He doesn't know the rudiments of play. He's only a boy. His money is so tied up that he has to borrow if he loses very much. There's no sport in playing with a boy like that."

"So you've said before, I believe, but I'm better qualified to judge than you are. Are you going to call him up?"

"No, I am not."

He turned paler. "Get up and go to that telephone!"

"You little whippet," she said slowly. "I was once a soldier's wife—the only decent thing I ever have been. This bullying ends now—here, at this instant! If you've any dirty work to do, do it yourself. I've done my share, and I've finished."

He was astonished. That was plain enough. But it was the sudden overwhelming access of fury that weakened him and made him turn, hand outstretched, blindly seeking for a chair. Inge, even rent anger, were emotions he seldom had to reckon with, for he was a very tired and bored and burned out gentleman, and vivid emotion was not good for his arteries, the doctors told him.

He found his chair, stood a moment with his back toward his wife, then very slowly let himself down into the chair and sat facing her. There was moisture on his soft, pallid skin, a nervous twitching of the under lip. He pressed one heavily ringed hand across his closely shaved jaw, still staring at her.

He went at her.

"I want to tell you something," he said. "You've got to stop your interference with my affairs, and stop it now."

"I am not interested in your affairs," she said unsteadily, still shaken by her own revolt, still under the shock of her own arousing to a resistance that had been long, long overdue. "If you mean," she went on, "that the rule of this boy is your affair, then I'll make it mine from this moment. I've told you that he shall not play, and he shall not. And while I'm about it I'll admit what you are preparing to accuse me of. I did make Gordon Craig promise to keep away. I did try to make that little fool Scott Jinks promise, too, and when he wouldn't I informed his father. And every time you try your dirty bucket shop methods on boys like that I'll do the same."

He swore at her quite calmly. She smiled, shrugged and, imploring her knees in her clasped hands, begged back and looked at him.

"What a thing I have been," she said, "to be afraid of you so long!"

A gleam crossed his faded eyes, but he let her remark pass for the moment. Then, when he was quite sure that violent emotion had been exhausted within him, "Do you want your bills paid?" he asked. "Because if you do Fane, Harmon & Co. are not going to pay them."

"We are living beyond our means," she inquired disdainfully.

"Not if you will be good enough to mind your business, my friend. I've managed this establishment on my winnings for two years. It's a detail, but you might as well know it. My association with Fane, Harmon & Co. runs the Newport and of it and nothing more."

"What did you marry me for?" she asked curiously.

A slight color came into his face. "Because Rosamund Fane lied about you."

"Oh! You knew that in Manila? You'd heard about it, hadn't you—the western timber lands? Rosamund didn't mean to lie. Only the titles were all wrong, you know. And so you made a bad break, Jack. Is that it?"

"Yes, that is it."

"And it cost you a fortune and me a husband. Is that it, my friend?"

"I can afford you if you will stop your meddling," he said coolly. "You have made a point of excluding Gerald."

"Yes."

"Very well. I'll telephone Draymore, Am!" he looked back from the door of his own apartment—"I got Julius Noorgard on the wire this afternoon, and he'll dine with us."

He gathered up his shimmering kimono, hesitated, baited, and again looked back.

"When you're dressed," he drawled, "I've a word to say to you about the game tonight and another about Gerald."

"I shall not play," she retorted scornfully, "nor will Gerald."

"Oh, yes, you will, and play your best too. And I'll expect him next time."

"I shall not play!"

He said deliberately: "You will not only play, but play cleverly, and in the interim, while dressing, you will reflect how much more agreeable it is to play cards here than the fool at 10 o'clock at night in the bachelor apartments of your late lamented."

And he entered his room, and his wife, getting blindly to her feet, every atom of color gone from lip and cheek, stood rigid, both small hands clutching the footboard of the bed.

When Your Stomach Hurts Take A Little Kodol

The pain will then cease, the irritation end; and your stomach will feel good. Kodol stops the pains of indigestion and dyspepsia quickly. Because it digests all the food you eat.

Kodol is a pleasant, palatable liquid preparation that helps the stomach do its work in a natural way and is the only preparation that completely digests all the food you eat. Being a liquid, it starts digestion at once.

Kodol supplies the same digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach. This is why it will stop the pain of indigestion quickly. This is why it prevents chronic nervous dyspepsia.

Your stomach being weakened probably by overfeeding or overwork, is unable to do its work properly, and the natural result is—indigestion, sour stomach, gas or belching, which will soon result in chronic dyspepsia, unless the stomach is given help.

That shaky, painful feeling in the stomach is nervous indigestion or dyspepsia. It is not only annoying, but dangerous. If left alone, the result is generally gastric, or often that fatal affliction—appendicitis. Appendicitis according to the best medical authorities is directly caused by indigestion.

Don't neglect your stomach. Don't take any chances. There is no need for you to suffer, because a little Kodol now and then will keep the stomach well, healthy and strong. Do not diet or starve yourself. That is not the way to get help. Your body needs the food your appetite calls for—you must have plenty of good food to make bone, muscle and rich life-giving blood.

That what you want of the food you like, and let Kodol help the stomach do its work. You can't get nourishment from your food unless you digest it. Take a little Kodol now and then. That is the only safe and sure way.

Kodol has tonic properties that upbuild and help the whole system.

You do not have to depend on Kodol all the time. You only take it when you need it. We want you to try Kodol—at our risk. We want to prove to you just what it will do.

If Kodol fails you get your money back—what more can you ask? What more can we give?

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family.

The dollar bottle contains 2½ times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

IT PAYS AGAIN

The fair and gentle maiden who loves the bashful boy Assumes when in his presence a manner that is coy; She blushes and she trembles till he perceives at last, And clasps her closely to him and gladly holds her fast, And as he bends to kiss her and she serenely signs This fact is demonstrated: it pays to advertise.

SENOR AUGUSTA LEGUIA, NEWLY ELECTED PRESIDENT OF PERU

Lima, Peru.—Senor Augusta Leguia has just been elected president of Peru after a hard fight. Leguia is very popular with all classes and is

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery" was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients—Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery" was the result of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred ailments was first made as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance of the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forest. All these ingredients have received the strongest endorsement from the leading medical experts, and have been used as the basis of the formula for the discovery for which "Golden Medical Discovery" is famous.

A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. W. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking and returning in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in the advanced stages. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

thoroughly fitted for the office by years of public office experience. People here are watching with the utmost interest the election in the United States for the government of Peru is based on that of Uncle Sam.

The republic is divided into 18 departments and two provinces additional. The departments are each subdivided into provinces. The present constitution of the republic was proclaimed in 1856 and revised in 1906; it is modeled on that of the United States. Legislative power is vested in a senate and a house of representatives, the latter composed of deputies from the provinces and the former of senators returned by the departments according to the number of provinces. The executive authority is reposed in a president elected for four years and not eligible for the succeeding term. The president exercises his authority through an appointive cabinet of six ministers.

Elementary education is compulsory for both sexes and is gratuitous in the municipal schools. High schools at which a small fee for instruction is exacted, are maintained by the state in the departmental capitals, and there are several colleges at different places. The university of San Marcos, chartered in 1561, is the oldest in America.

Peru was until the sixteenth century the seat of a powerful native kingdom, ruled by a dynasty called the Incas. In 1532 Pizarro destroyed the Incas.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Oct. 20, 1868.—The first of the members of the congregation of the church here, assuming their places under the superintendence of Mr. Nettleton. The audience room will soon be enclosed.

Accident.—Mr. Wm. Dodge, postmaster at Johnston, Center, was thrown from his buggy on Monday night while on his way home from this city, and fractured his shoulder. He lay for a long time helpless where he fell, but after coming to his senses succeeded in getting him home alone.

A New Thing and a Good One.—The employees of the North-Western road have formed a Mutual Benefit Association, the objects of which are to make provision for themselves and those dependent upon them, in case of accident or death, of which they are constantly in danger. They purpose aiding, assisting and relieving any one of their members who may become unable to care for himself or for those dependent upon him. The officers are: President, L. E. Smith; Vice Pres., Henry Morris; Secretary, P. H. Hoffman; Treasurer, C. A. Swineford; Directors, G. H. Hull, J. Sarney, R. B. Hayward, Harvey Allenberg, and James A. Weston.

A Risk.—The young people of the city will be gratified to learn that H. S. Comstock has commenced the erection of a risk on the vacant lots in front of the jail.

Returned.—Mr. J. A. Wohl has returned from a trip to the eastern markets where he has been in pursuit of rare goods in his line.

Fire at Fond du Lac.—Fond du Lac, Oct. 20.—The Washington Hotel, four stories and four dwelling houses were destroyed by fire at two o'clock this morning. It was the work of an incendiary. The loss is not less than $20,000.

Escaped Jail.—Marvin King and George Vanhook, in jail at Madison for the robbery of a Sweden named Smith, have escaped.

There is some talk at Washington of a November session of Congress. Parties interested are writing to Congressmen, urging a session, November 10th, for business. They desire a modification of the Internal Revenue law at the earliest possible moment. The condition of the South is alarming, and needs the attention of Congress.

In the states of Nebraska and Kansas, within the past few weeks, some 40,000 acres of land have been taken up for settlement.

CAPT. FRENCH ON THE STAND.

Quartermaster Testifies in Own Defense at Court-Martial.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 20.—Capt. Charles G. French, quartermaster of the Seventh United States Infantry, on trial before a court-martial at Fort Wayne on a charge of providing government forage for horses not owned by the government, took the stand Wednesday afternoon in his own behalf. At the conclusion of his testimony the defense rested. It is expected that the arguments will be concluded Thursday afternoon.

Under cross-examination, by Capt. Howland, the judge advocate, Capt. French said that he had required no requisition from the officers except their word and that he believed that the certificate he issued for the forage substantially complied with the accepted interpretation of the army regulations governing the issuing of forage.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES.

"Sapho"
Agatha Valdez in "The Vision of Sapho," the most sensational dance of the age, will be an added feature attraction with the Sanho company which appears at the Myers theatre, tonight. For the benefit of those that have never read the history of Sapho, the following no doubt, will interest them. Sapho, who is in love with a young man, is drinking with many others at a long table richly laden, when John the Baptist is brought before him. He upbraids the king for his revelry and is cast into prison. Sapho falls in love with the prisoner and as he is led away, glides out after him. Sapho's request to see the prophet is denied, but the soldiers finally consent. She kneels to him and kisses his hands and garments. He reproaches her for her disregard of the Almighty. She is wild with anger at being scorned. The king asks her to dance and she dances the vision of Sapho (for the dance of the seven veils), throwing each veil at the feet of Herod. As her reward she asks the head of John the Baptist. The king hesitates to give the command, but Sapho approaches with a silver tray and demands her reward. The slave enters with the head of John the Baptist, kneels before the king, who commands him to give the reward to Sapho.

Use for Electric Fan.
The electric fan is now employed in many modern homes for drying the dishes. The dishes are washed and placed on wire racks and rinsed with hot water. The fan is placed to throw a strong breeze on them and they are quickly dried. The fan can also be used to dry lace curtains which have been placed on stretchers.

Potato Spontaneous In Chile.
The potato, which was already cultivated in America when the continent was discovered, is spontaneous in Chile. It was introduced to Europe in 1580 and 1585 by the Spaniards, and almost at the same time by the English, who brought it from Virginia, where it had appeared about 1550.

"First in War, Etc."
The phrase, "First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen," was first applied to George Washington by Henry Lee of Virginia in a eulogy delivered in the house of representatives, December 26, 1799. He had previously introduced a resolution that a committee be appointed to consider the most suitable manner of paying honor to the first president of the United States.

Danderine

GROWS HAIR and we can PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes: "As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been seriously diagnosed and altogether misinterpreted. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention it really needs to be expected. It would do us earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which hair or growth must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when this occurs the scalp has already lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon to plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair roots or liquor of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine restores the hair, send a large satin slip free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the
